Z-Day is coming up in mid-March and Australia has big plans to generate public awareness towards The Zeitgeist Movement, but we will need help from our international neighbors. Remember this is a global movement, so although you may not live in Australia your contribution will still be equally as valuable to the progress of the movement.

Z-Day Australia 2012 project aim: We want every residential property in the country to receive a DVD containing TZM related material around mid-March.

At only (AU) 35c per DVD the efficiency of a RBE is already obvious, which is why we are asking you to please purchase as many DVDs as you can to be distributed to the general Australian public in mid-March. Just follow the steps according to this page on the following link <http://www.zeitgeistaustralia.org/dvd-burning-service/>

Step 1 – write your name and email and type “distribution” in the postal address section. Please note: You will not receive the DVDs with this option; they will automatically be dispersed via Australia Post unaddressed mail services through the state of your choice in the dropdown menu. SA will be

I am currently studying architecture and hope that I can help form a collaborative approach to the profession once working in the field, I am looking forward to the global redesign project. I Think architecture will be an integral part of TZM for strategic design and the redesign of the construction process in an age of Automated technologies. I also think that low tech houses such as earthships will be important for less developed areas or if society collapses to the point where our technological capabilities are hindered.

I advocate The Zeitgeist Movement because we have "jobs" that do not the default state because the DVD burning service is based there so it is more efficient, but you can still select another state.

Step 2 – Select: Zeitgeist Addendum + Moving Forward (lower quality double Compilation) or Zeitgeist Moving Forward for higher quality resolution (these options are recommended but not compulsory).Once the compilation option is selected type in your desired quantity.

Step 3 – Only PayPal or Direct Debit can be selected for the distribution service. Please note although you will not receive the DVDs you will still be charged postage for the unaddressed mail services provided through Australia Post organized through TZM Australia.

Type in any other information RE: the services then click "SUBMIT" down the bottom of the page.

Done! The next step will be to wait for the public response, which will surely be interesting! All DVDs will link viewers to TZM related material and back to the DVD burning website through the cover design which you can view on the Facebook page "zeitgeist mass awareness plan" or the following link.

create or progress anything, we have an education system that does not educate as much as it indoctrinates, we have a culture that rewards and encourages insane behavior and an economy that does not economize so I think a complete global revolution of values and perception is necessary at this point in time.
